HEART FUND

Relationship to Heart Disease" in October, 1970.

Several pamphlets and papers dealing with heart disease are mailed monthly to doctors and nurses by the association. Doctor's offices and hospital stations are provided with diet manuals for distribution to patients by prescription.

The association will hold a nursing seminar on "Care of the Patient from the Coronary Care Unit to the Home" on Feb. 23.

The association was instrumental in establishing a Coronary Care Unit for the Lynchburg area. Approximately $6,000 was spent on investigation, nurses' training and teaching equipment. The association also employes jointly with Lynchburg General and Virginia Baptist Hospital a nurse as the coordinator of coronary care education activities.

The association has donated $25,381.83 in oxygen equipment to the 15 area rescue squads. Equipment has been placed in 14 loan closets in the amount of $13,034.28. This equipment consists of wheelchairs, beds and walkers for recuperating patients, free of charge.

In cooperation with the American Cancer Society, the heart association is also sponsoring the Homemaker Service for Lynchburg and the surrounding area.

ADVENTIST CHURCH

Rufus B. McDannel, Pastor
Sabbath School Lesson for Jan. 30, 1971
Subject: "Church Relations"
Keytext: That they may all be one; as Thou Father, art in Me and I in Thee, That they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that Thou hast sent me, John 17:21.

As there is unity in heaven, so it was God's place that there should be unity in the church family as well. A house of worship divided cannot stand. The unity of the church is the convincing evidence that God has sent Jesus into the world as its Redeemer. This is an argument which worldlings cannot controvert. Therefore Satin is constantly working to prevent this union and harmony, that unbelivers by witnessing backsliding disension, and strife among professed Christians, may become disgusted with religion and be confirmed in their impenitence. God is dishonored by those who profess the truth while they are at variance with one another. Satin is the great accuser of the breathern, and all who engage in this work are enlisted in his service. The members should respect and honor their leaders. The leaders in turn are to be worthy of that respect. Only thus can the church have a real influence on its neighbors.

Baby Survives 10,000-1 Chance To Live

by W. C. Dudley, III
Blacksburg, Va.

William Courtney Dudley, IV was born on October 18, 1970 at 3:30 A.M. His birth weight was 1 lb. and 12 ozs. He was exactly three months premature. What a way for a young man to start his life!

Yes, the above is true, although it is very hard to believe. Will Dudley started life out rough, but now he is doing fine. His chances for survival were one in ten thousand. The doctors gave him no hope of living. It was necessary to rush the Arp Respirator to his side and support his breating for some 18 hours. Special nurses watched him every hour of the day for his first week of life. He stayed a total of seventy-eight days at Radford Community Hospital and finally came home to his parents on January 4, 1971.

Well, what else can you say besides miracles still happen. To look at the above picture you wouldn't know what Will had been through. On January 17, 1971, the day he was due to be born, he weighed seven and one-half pounds and was eighteen and one-half inches long.

As my wife and I look back over the past few months we thank God for sparing our young child. We are also thankful that He has given men and women the ability and desire to help others in their time of need. Our baby's physician, Dr. Garrett Dalton has been and still is unceasing in his devotion of time and attention to our baby. Enough can not be said about the nurses and staff at Radford Community Hospital. We have come to know and love many of them. The attention and care that they gave to our baby can never be repaid. Dr. L. J. Arp also played a very essential role in the development of our baby. He disregarded his own personal interests and stayed by the side of our baby for eighteen hours. Many of you have probably read of the Arp Respirator in LIFE Magazine. For all the time that Dr. Arp stayed with our baby and for the use of his machine, he would not charge a penny. What a wonderful example of man's love one for another.

William C. Dudley, IV

We could write a book of our experiences the last few months. Maybe we will. However, both my wife and I wanted to share this with you, our friends back home. We also wanted to thank many of you for your kind remembrances but most of all, we want to thank you for your prayers. May God truly bless you throughout the coming year as He has us.

Every acre of growing trees will generate enough oxygen to sustain 18 people for an entire year.

15% of your heating dollars may be going right out the window.

Glass allows heat to escape many times faster than walls do. So, whether you heat your house with flameless electricity or one of the older flame fuels, you can save as much as 15% of your heating dollars by installing storm windows, or by covering windows with sheets of clear plastic. And here are four other ways to save on your heating bill.

1 Don't spend your money keeping Mother Nature warm. First make sure your home is properly insulated. Then seal all cracks and crevices around windows and doors and close dampers or block flues in unused fireplaces. This way you'll keep out the cold air and seal in the heat.

2 Let the sun shine in—it's free; so use it whenever you can. Otherwise draw your window shades or draperies, especially at night, to insulate your windows, keep out the cold and reduce a sizeable heat loss.

3 Don't spend money heating unused space. Close the doors to attic, basement, garage and other unheated areas. If your home has electric heat with thermostats in every room, you can save even more by reducing the settings in unused rooms and closing them off.

4 Remember that repeatedly adjusting the thermostat can be a very costly habit. Contrary to popular opinion, turning it way up doesn't make the heat come any faster; it just keeps the unit operating longer and uses more fuel. So set your thermostat at the temperature you want and leave it there.

We know how unpleasant inflation is. Like you, Vepco is faced with higher costs: for fuel, labor, freight, interest, pollution control and construction, among other things. And because we understand the problems inflation brings you, we're offering these helpful hints from the Vepco Home Economists. Follow them and save money.
